Did you spot the risky practise?

1. Headline graphic – unwise to post a graphic of alcoholic drinks, especially as Chloe is underage. What kind of impression does this give?
2. The page has Chloe's full name – this makes tracing her and details about her very, very easy. See the BBC DVD clip 'They share but do they take care' – it's on our website
3. The page states which school Chloe attends – so she can be traced
4. Email address – inappropriate name which gives an unfortunate impression about Chloe

5. Photographs are inappropriate – showing Chloe drinking with her friends, remember she is underage
6. The page shows a map of where Chloe lives – making tracing her a simple process
7. Also, a more detailed map is posted at the bottom of the page – again making very easy for someone to trace Chloe
8. Chloe says that she will use an essay she wrote last year for her homework – again, inappropriate because this is giving anyone who looks at her page a poor impression of Chloe as well as being just plain wrong!
9. Chloe posts that her parents are away for the weekend – this informs anyone who reads her page that she is on her own
10. Someone has already posted that there will be a party at Chloe's at the weekend so a large number of people could turn up at her house - she has already posted a map of where she is
11. Pictures of friends – some people have used cartoon figures; does Chloe know these people? Are they who they seem to be? Why haven't they posted proper photographs of themselves?

Some of the content Chloe has posted on her page is unsafe making it very easy for someone to trace her. Also, some of the content is inappropriate – remember 'the internet never forgets' – so any future employers or colleges/universities will be able to carry out a search and may disqualify Chloe from jobs or courses.

REMEMBER – WHAT YOU POST CAN AFFECT YOUR FUTURE!
